WEDNESDAY

The Waters of Chaos* with Author & KU Professor, Jerry Dobson

Wednesday, April 17 at 3:00 p.m.

The Waters of Chaos is an unconventional science mystery novel tackling the greatest puzzle of them all: How did we get to be so smart? The stories invoke Egyptian mythology and universal flood myths to connect science and lore. Check out the evidence, and you'll find that almost all of it is true and convincing enough to challenge conventional wisdom. Mystery, adventure, action, romance, the secrets of the ages; The Waters of Chaos has them all. This event includes a book sale and signing.

WEDNESDAY

Gun Control: Freedom vs. Safety

Wednesday, April 17 at 7:30 p.m.

While the debate on gun control continues to be pushed to the forefront of American politics, the Dole Institute Student Advisory Board is offering an opportunity for the KU and

Lawrence community to engage the issue through informative discussion with advocates from both sides. Join the Dole Institute Student Advisory Board for a discussion with Patricia Stoneking, President of the Kansas Rifle Association, and Allen Rostron, Constitutional Law Scholar and Professor at UMKC and Former Senior Staff Attorney at the Brady Center to Prevent Gun Violence.

The Environment & Energy: The Role of Free Enterprise and the Government

Tuesday, April 23 at 7:30 p.m.

Click HERE for a pre-program video from Former Congressman Inglis!

What's the proper role of the federal government in protecting the environment? Former Congressman Bob Inglis served on the House Science Committee and believes that free enterprise can address many environmental problems where others call for government action. Inglis is Executive Director of the Energy & Enterprise Initiative, an organization that advocates free-enterprise solutions for a long-term, stable energy policy to achieve energy security and avoid the unnecessary risks of a changing climate.
