Lawrence, Kas., April -- Approval by the board of regents of several maintenance projects at the University of Kansas is good news for both pedestrians and motorists.

Application of hot bituminous mat to Jayhawk Drive, the principal campus street, is the number one project. The nearly 30-year-old concrete paving has become cracked and uneven. On rainy days innumerable small puddles form, producing many splashing for pedestrians. The smooth and sloped mat surface should eliminate that hazard.

Besides resurfacing of several campus streets and widening of two bottlenecks, the projects authorized include removal of a skylight from Spooner Hall and reroofing. Although bids have not been advertised, it is hoped to complete the paving before June.

Lawrence, Kas., Oct. -- A new planting on the University of Kansas campus has been made possible by a gift from the Daffodil club of Lawrence, it was announced today by ~~the~~ Prof. Alton Thomas, landscape architect for the university.

The local Daffodil club ^{gave} ~~sent~~ 1,185 bulbs of various kinds of daffodils to be planted on the Memorial Drive. The planting has been made among the birch and pine trees in the area between the west entrance to Memorial Drive and the circle and the end of Jayhawk Drive.

"This is ~~an~~ a welcome addition to the campus beautification program," Professor Thomas said.
