KU names winners of Leading Light Awards

KU recognized some of its most productive researchers recently, conferring the Leading Light Award on 40 faculty and staff at the Lawrence campus. The 40 are principal investigators or co-principal investigators on externally funded grants of $1 million or more awarded during the 2012 fiscal year.

Full Story

TODAY'S HEADLINES

Edwidge Danticat to speak at KU
Edwidge Danticat, MacArthur Fellow and author of "Breath, Eyes, Memory," will speak at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, March 13, in the Woodruff Auditorium in the Kansas Union. She will give a second talk Thursday, March 14.

Full Story

Mathematics professor honored
Tyrone Duncan is the recipient of the 2013 W.T. and Idalia Reid Prize from the Society for Industrial and Applied Mathematics. The award honors individuals for their research or contributions to differential equations and control theory.

Full Story

TODAY'S EVENTS

SEMINAR

'The Unseen Things: HIV, Secrecy and Well-being among Women in Nigeria'
Thursday, March 7, 2013
Noon-1:30 p.m.
Hall Center for the Humanities Conference Hall

View all events

TWITTER

@kunews #KU has five national championships in debate. So don't argue with us! #KUFacts http://www2.ku.edu/~coms3/

View all tweets

CAMPUS NEWS

New KU energy-saving competition
The Center for Sustainability has launched its second annual energy-saving competition, which begins today, March 7. Contenders will be 14 buildings primarily used by the College of Liberal Arts & Sciences.

Full Story