The University of Kansas Libraries’ Digital Publishing Services provides support to the KU community for the design, management and distribution of online publications, including journals, conference proceedings, monographs, and other scholarly content. We help scholars explore new and emerging publishing models in our changing scholarly communication environment, and help monitor and address campus concerns and questions about electronic publishing.

Over 1 million downloads in 2013!

Two platforms support a range of publishing models

American Studies (OJS)
Auslegung: A journal of philosophy (KUSW)
Biodiversity Informatics (OJS)
Center for East Asian Studies Publication Series (KUSW)
Folklorica (OJS)
Indigenous Nations Journal (KUSW)
Journal of Dramatic Theory and Criticism (OJS)
Journal of Melittology (OJS)
Kansas Working Papers in Linguistics (KUSW)
Latin American Theatre Review (OJS)
Slovene Linguistic Studies (KUSW)
Social Thought and Research (KUSW)

Open Access options

Questions? Contact us!

Marianne Reed
Digital Scholarship Specialist
University of Kansas Libraries
mreed@ku.edu

Brian Rosenblum
Head, Center for Faculty Initiatives
University of Kansas Libraries
brianlee@ku.edu

This poster and supplemental materials are available at http://hdl.handle.net/1808/13158