4-year scholarships deadline nears

Why become a Jayhawk? Because the University of Kansas awards $50 million in scholarships and grants each year, the most scholarship dollars of any university in the state. Apply for our four-year scholarships by visiting online by Nov. 1.

More information

TODAY'S HEADLINES

New Investigator Award
Emily Scott, associate professor at the School of Pharmacy’s Department of Medicinal Chemistry, has earned the North American New Investigator Award from the International Society for the Study of Xenobiotics.

Full Story

TV exec to talk on creativity
Steve Koonin, the mastermind of several successful cable television networks, will present “Creativity: Why Great Ideas Matter More than Ever” at 3 p.m. Monday, Oct. 15, at the Lied Center of Kansas.

Full Story

TODAY'S EVENTS

BASKETBALL

Late Night in the Phog
Friday, Oct. 12, 2012
7 p.m.
Allen Fieldhouse
View all events

TODAY’S EVENTS

TWITTER

@KUSocialWelfare
#KU School of Social Welfare professor Terry Koenig interviewed on KMBZ News.
http://t.co/o64AxZuc
View all tweets

FEATURED MULTIMEDIA

FUN STUFF AT KU

KU pumpkin stencil
More: photos | videos

KUDOS

Employees of the month
An administrative assistant for the University Honors Program and the university’s fire marshal have been honored as KU's August Employees of the Month.

Full Story

KU IN THE NEWS

Scientific American (Oct. 11, 2012)
Policy, not agency, needed to improve outcomes for academic parents

Study finds high school media lacking in diversity, online presence