Helping families fight substance abuse

Researchers at KU have partnered with the states of Oklahoma and Iowa on a series of grants totaling $5.75 million to evaluate the effectiveness of a system designed to help case workers reunite children and families affected by substance abuse and to bring new forms of therapy to the fight.

TODAY'S HEADLINES

Chancellors Club teaching honors

Four KU faculty members have been named Chancellors Club Teaching Professors. Honorees are from the School of Music, School of Health Professions and departments of chemistry and English.

Meet engineering dean candidates

The second candidate for dean of the School of Engineering will visit KU on Monday and participate in an open forum at 3:45 p.m. at KU Visitor's Center. Amr Elnashai is from the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign.

KUDOS

Students learn about biomed research

KU faculty, students and staff attended the 2012 Annual Biomedical Research Conference for Minority Students (ABRCMS) last week in San Jose, Calif.