KUMC students serve their community

First-year University of Kansas Medical Center students recently spent a half-day during orientation performing community service projects at sites around Kansas City, Kan. “M-1 Day,” as it is known, is in its 10th year. The service projects introduce the students to the community in which they will begin their medical education.

Full Story

TODAY'S HEADLINES

American Chemical Society Fellows

Jeff Aubé, University Distinguished Professor of Medicinal Chemistry, and Joseph Heppert, professor of chemistry, have been chosen as fellows by the world’s largest scientific society, the American Chemical Society

Full Story

Media Informatics Lab opens

KU’s journalism school and Information Technology & Telecommunication Center have opened The Media Informatics Lab. Its focus is on the research of the definition, development and distribution of solutions to current and future communication challenges.

Full Story

TODAY'S HEADLINES

Twitter

@parkingku: Today is the last day that 2011-2012 permits are valid. Order your new permit now if you haven’t yet! http://ow.ly/cCQiH

View all tweets

FEATURED MULTIMEDIA

Jayhawks in the Olympics

More: photos | videos

KU IN THE NEWS

The Daily Mail (July 31, 2012)

Why you should grin and bear life’s problems

Inside Higher Ed (July 30, 2012)

Dual career cautionary tale

CBS News (July 31, 2012)

75 reasons you don’t need an Ivy League degree

CONNECT
Sent to ljohnson18@ku.edu — why did I get this?
unsubscribe from this list | update subscription preferences
The University of Kansas · 1314 Jayhawk Boulevard · Lawrence, KS 66044