A True Experience
MEMORANDUM
To: C. J. Hipple, from Office Subselves grading K2
Last week I decided to phone the bank and ask them about the possibility of opening an account at a new bank that I had heard about. They were very helpful and helped me understand the process of opening an account. I was able to get my name added to the list and now have a new account at the new bank. I am very satisfied with the service provided by the new bank and will definitely be recommending it to others. I am also very happy with the new account and am excited to start using it.
