What kind of Researcher are you?

You don’t rely on others to find the information you need. You venture out on your own.

Make the Most of KU Libraries

Visit the Music & Dance Library
- Located on the upper level of the south addition to Murphy Hall (Room 240).
- Contains more than 100,000 scores, books, sound recordings, videos, microforms, and serials, making it one of the leading music collections in the Great Plains region.
- Offers PCs for general use and Macs dedicated for media editing.

Online Access From Anywhere
- Access databases and e-Journals with your KU ID from anywhere, so you can explore whenever the mood strikes you.
- Search the library catalog and request that materials be sent to any library service desk for easy pick-up.
- Request and receive items not available in the Libraries’ collections through Interlibrary Loan (ILL)

Featured Online Database
The Philosopher’s Index is a bibliographic database covers scholarly research in all fields of philosophy, published in journals and books.

You Might Like...

Did You Know?

- The Ask a Librarian Feature on the Libraries website connects you to a KU Librarian from anywhere via chat, text, email, or phone.
- There are 7 libraries on the Lawrence campus.
- Your KU ID card is all you need to check out materials from the libraries.
- You can check out books for 6 weeks at a time.

No matter what you’re studying, KU Libraries have world-class collections and scholarly resources for your research papers, projects and coursework—and friendly staff with the expertise to help you find exactly what you need. We are your partner at KU, here to help you succeed in the classroom and beyond. You belong here.

Start Strong

- Read the assignment and make sure you understand it. Ask for help if needed.
- Find a topic you like and form a specific research question.
- Determine what kind of research you need (ex. scholarly or popular; books, magazines, or websites; etc.)
- Know how many sources you need.
- Start early - give yourself time to complete your work, revise, and proofread before you turn it in.

Stay Focused

- Try the Pomodoro Technique: work for 25 minutes, take note of what you accomplished, and then take a 5 minute break. Repeat.
- Pomodoro timer apps are available for laptop or phone. The timer helps keep you on task!

Eliminate Distractions

- Cold Turkey for PC and Self Control for Mac let you block websites that distract you while you're studying.
- Seek out quiet study space in any of KU's libraries.
- Plan ahead - set aside time in your schedule for working on projects and stick to it.
- Gather everything you need before you begin - pens, paper, snacks, etc.- so it's all within reach.

Ask for Help When Needed

- The Writing Center can help at any stage of the writing process. Make an appointment at writing.ku.edu
- Use the Ask a Librarian feature on the Libraries website, which puts you in contact with a librarian via chat, email, text, or phone.
- AAAC offers tutoring for a variety of courses. Find out more at tutoring.ku.edu.

This work is licensed under Creative Commons, a global nonprofit organization that enables sharing and reuse of creativity and knowledge through the provision of free legal tools, including copyright licensing.
Make the Most of KU Libraries

Group Study Rooms
- Study rooms available to reserve in Anschutz, Watson, Spahr, Music & Dance, and Art & Architecture.
- Various rooms can accommodate 3-13+ people.
- Reserve a room at calendar.lib.ku.edu
- No reservation? Open group study areas are designated in various libraries.

Technology Available for Checkout
- iPad Minis available in Watson and Anschutz Libraries - great for watching videos or reading PDFs!
- Forgot to bring headphones? They're available at the service desk in Watson, Anschutz, Spahr, Art & Architecture, and Music & Dance Libraries.

Featured Online Database
PsycINFO includes journal articles on psychology and psychiatry spanning from 1887 to the present, as well as books and other relevant documents.

You Might Like...
Did You Know?

- The Ask a Librarian Feature on the Libraries website connects you to a KU Librarian from anywhere via chat, text, email, or phone.
- There are 7 libraries on the Lawrence campus.
- Your KU ID card is all you need to check out materials from the libraries.
- You can check out books for 6 weeks at a time.

No matter what you’re studying, KU Libraries have world-class collections and scholarly resources for your research papers, projects and coursework—and friendly staff with the expertise to help you find exactly what you need. We are your partner at KU, here to help you succeed in the classroom and beyond. You belong here.

Start Strong

- Read the assignment and make sure you understand it. Ask for help if needed.
- Find a topic you like and form a specific research question.
- Determine what kind of research you need (ex. scholarly or popular; books, magazines, or websites; etc.)
- Know how many sources you need.
- Start early - give yourself time to complete your work, revise, and proofread before you turn it in.

Eliminate Distractions

- Cold Turkey for PC and Self Control for Mac let you block websites that distract you while you're studying.
- Seek out quiet study space in any of KU's libraries.
- Plan ahead - set aside time in your schedule for working on projects and stick to it.
- Gather everything you need before you begin - pens, paper, snacks, etc.- so it's all within reach.

Stay Focused

- Try the Pomodoro Technique: work for 25 minutes, take note of what you accomplished, and then take a 5 minute break. Repeat.
- Pomodoro timer apps are available for laptop or phone. The timer helps keep you on task!

Ask for Help When Needed

- The Writing Center can help at any stage of the writing process. Make an appointment at writing.ku.edu
- Use the Ask a Librarian feature on the Libraries website, which puts you in contact with a librarian via chat, email, text, or phone.
- AAAC offers tutoring for a variety of courses. Find out more at tutoring.ku.edu.

This work is licensed under Creative Commons, a global nonprofit organization that enables sharing and reuse of creativity and knowledge through the provision of free legal tools, including copyright licensing.

lib.ku.edu
What kind of RESEARCHER are YOU?

You find comfort in your own comfort. Lucky for you, KU Libraries provide electronic access to many resources from anywhere in the world--even your bedroom!

Make the Most of KU Libraries

Visit Anschutz Library

- Go when it's most convenient for you - Anschutz is open 24 hours a day Sunday-Thursday when classes are in session.
- The Learning Studio on the 3rd and 4th floors offers group study rooms and areas, computers and printers, and a Writing Center location.
- Laptops and iPad Minis available for check out at the service desk.

Online Access From Anywhere

- Access databases and e-Journals with your KU ID from anywhere - including your dorm.
- Search the library catalog and request that materials be sent to any library service desk for easy pick-up.
- Request and receive items not available in the Libraries' collections through Interlibrary Loan.
- The Writing Center's online assignment planner can help keep you on track.

Featured Online Database

JSTOR offers a vast store of academic journals, books, and primary sources spanning a wide range of topics.

You Might Like...

Did You Know?

- The Ask a Librarian Feature on the Libraries website connects you to a KU Librarian from anywhere via chat, text, email, or phone.
- There are 7 libraries on the Lawrence campus.
- Your KU ID card is all you need to check out materials from the libraries.
- You can check out books for 6 weeks at a time.

No matter what you're studying, KU Libraries have world-class collections and scholarly resources for your research papers, projects and coursework—and friendly staff with the expertise to help you find exactly what you need. We are your partner at KU, here to help you succeed in the classroom and beyond. You belong here.

Start Strong

- Read the assignment and make sure you understand it. Ask for help if needed.
- Find a topic you like and form a specific research question.
- Determine what kind of research you need (ex. scholarly or popular; books, magazines, or websites; etc.)
- Know how many sources you need.
- Start early - give yourself time to complete your work, revise, and proofread before you turn it in.

Eliminate Distractions

- Cold Turkey for PC and Self Control for Mac let you block websites that distract you while you're studying.
- Seek out quiet study space in any of KU's libraries.
- Plan ahead - set aside time in your schedule for working on projects and stick to it.
- Gather everything you need before you begin - pens, paper, snacks, etc.- so it's all within reach.

Stay Focused

- Try the Pomodoro Technique: work for 25 minutes, take note of what you accomplished, and then take a 5 minute break. Repeat.
- Pomodoro timer apps are available for laptop or phone. The timer helps keep you on task!

Ask for Help When Needed

- The Writing Center can help at any stage of the writing process. Make an appointment at writing.ku.edu
- Use the Ask a Librarian feature on the Libraries website, which puts you in contact with a librarian via chat, email, text, or phone.
- AAAC offers tutoring for a variety of courses. Find out more at tutoring.ku.edu.

This work is licensed under Creative Commons, a global nonprofit organization that enables sharing and reuse of creativity and knowledge through the provision of free legal tools, including copyright licensing.

lib.ku.edu
Make the Most of KU Libraries

Visit Spahr Engineering Library
- Offers thousands of books, serials, and microfiche items serving the needs of the School of Engineering.
- Houses quiet and group study spaces, computer workstations, and a food stop.
- Laptops available for checkout at the service desk.
- Private group study rooms are available to reserve - book yours at http://calendar.lib.ku.edu/booking/spahr

Online Access From Anywhere
- Access databases and e-Journals with your KU ID from anywhere - including your dorm.
- Search the library catalog and request that materials be sent to any library service desk for easy pick-up.
- Request and receive items not available in the Libraries' collections through Interlibrary Loan (ILL).

Featured Online Database
ERIC (Education Resources Information Center) is sponsored by the US Dept. of Education to provide extensive access to education-related literature.

You Might Like...

Did You Know?

- The Ask a Librarian Feature on the Libraries website connects you to a KU Librarian from anywhere via chat, text, email, or phone.
- There are 7 libraries on the Lawrence campus.
- Your KU ID card is all you need to check out materials from the libraries.
- You can check out books for 6 weeks at a time.

No matter what you're studying, KU Libraries have world-class collections and scholarly resources for your research papers, projects and coursework—and friendly staff with the expertise to help you find exactly what you need. We are your partner at KU, here to help you succeed in the classroom and beyond. You belong here.

Start Strong

- Read the assignment and make sure you understand it. Ask for help if needed.
- Find a topic you like and form a specific research question.
- Determine what kind of research you need (ex. scholarly or popular; books, magazines, or websites; etc.)
- Know how many sources you need.
- Start early - give yourself time to complete your work, revise, and proofread before you turn it in.

Stay Focused

- Try the Pomodoro Technique: work for 25 minutes, take note of what you accomplished, and then take a 5 minute break. Repeat.
- Pomodoro timer apps are available for laptop or phone. The timer helps keep you on task!

Eliminate Distractions

- Cold Turkey for PC and Self Control for Mac let you block websites that distract you while you're studying.
- Seek out quiet study space in any of KU's libraries.
- Plan ahead - set aside time in your schedule for working on projects and stick to it.
- Gather everything you need before you begin - pens, paper, snacks, etc.- so it's all within reach.

Ask for Help When Needed

- The Writing Center can help at any stage of the writing process. Make an appointment at writing.ku.edu
- Use the Ask a Librarian feature on the Libraries website, which puts you in contact with a librarian via chat, email, text, or phone.
- AAAC offers tutoring for a variety of courses. Find out more at tutoring.ku.edu.

This work is licensed under Creative Commons, a global nonprofit organization that enables sharing and reuse of creativity and knowledge through the provision of free legal tools, including copyright licensing.
What kind of researcher are you?

You like to use all of the resources at your disposal to find what you need.

Make the Most of KU Libraries

Visit Anschutz Library

- Go when it's most convenient for you - Anschutz is open 24 hours a day Sunday-Thursday when classes are in session.
- The Learning Studio on the 3rd and 4th floors offers group study rooms and areas, computers and printers, and a Writing Center location.
- Laptops and iPad Minis available for check out at the service desk.

Online Access From Anywhere

- Access databases and e-Journals with your KU ID from anywhere - including your dorm.
- Search the library catalog and request that materials be sent to any library service desk for easy pick-up.
- Request and receive items not available in the Libraries' collections through Interlibrary Loan (ILL).

Featured Online Database

JSTOR offers a vast store of academic journals, books, and primary sources spanning a wide range of topics.

You Might Like...

Mobile Research Methods: Opportunities and Challenges of Mobile Research Methodologies (2015) examines the use of mobile devices to collect, analyze and apply research data in various contexts. eBook available to download through the Libraries website.
Did You Know?

- The Ask a Librarian Feature on the Libraries website connects you to a KU Librarian from anywhere via chat, text, email, or phone.
- There are 7 libraries on the Lawrence campus.
- Your KU ID card is all you need to check out materials from the libraries.
- You can check out books for 6 weeks at a time.

No matter what you’re studying, KU Libraries have world-class collections and scholarly resources for your research papers, projects and coursework—and friendly staff with the expertise to help you find exactly what you need. We are your partner at KU, here to help you succeed in the classroom and beyond. You belong here.

Start Strong

- Read the assignment and make sure you understand it. Ask for help if needed.
- Find a topic you like and form a specific research question.
- Determine what kind of research you need (ex. scholarly or popular; books, magazines, or websites; etc.)
- Know how many sources you need.
- Start early - give yourself time to complete your work, revise, and proofread before you turn it in.

Eliminate Distractions

- Cold Turkey for PC and Self Control for Mac let you block websites that distract you while you’re studying.
- Seek out quiet study space in any of KU’s libraries.
- Plan ahead - set aside time in your schedule for working on projects and stick to it.
- Gather everything you need before you begin - pens, paper, snacks, etc.- so it’s all within reach.

Stay Focused

- Try the Pomodoro Technique: work for 25 minutes, take note of what you accomplished, and then take a 5 minute break. Repeat.
- Pomodoro timer apps are available for laptop or phone. The timer helps keep you on task!

Ask for Help When Needed

- The Writing Center can help at any stage of the writing process. Make an appointment at writing.ku.edu
- Use the Ask a Librarian feature on the Libraries website, which puts you in contact with a librarian via chat, email, text, or phone.
- AAAC offers tutoring for a variety of courses. Find out more at tutoring.ku.edu.

This work is licensed under Creative Commons, a global nonprofit organization that enables sharing and reuse of creativity and knowledge through the provision of free legal tools, including copyright licensing.
What kind of RESEARCHER are YOU?

The linguist

You have a passion for language and the spoken word. Thanks to your research assignment, you are now fluent in the language of the library.

Make the Most of KU Libraries

Visit Watson Library
- KU's oldest and largest library.
- Houses collections in the social sciences, humanities, education, journalism and social welfare.
- Newly renovated quiet individual and group study space on the 5th floor.
- Features Studio K on the 3rd floor, a quick-record studio where you can easily record a speech, demonstration or presentation.

Spencer Research Library
- Collections include ancient and medieval manuscripts; one of the largest collections of Irish literature outside Dublin; special collections in the history of science and education; the Kansas Collection; the Wilcox Collection of Contemporary Political Movements; and the University Archives.
- Enjoy quiet spaces and a beautiful view of campus!

KU LIBRARIES
The University of Kansas

Featured Online Database

MLA Bibliography offers 2.7 million records on modern languages and literature.

You Might Like...

The Oxford Handbook of Linguistics (2013), available in Watson Library (call no. P61. O94 2013). Leading scholars from around the world examine the history of linguistics from ancient origins to the present.
Did You Know?

- The Ask a Librarian Feature on the Libraries website connects you to a KU Librarian from anywhere via chat, text, email, or phone.
- There are 7 libraries on the Lawrence campus.
- Your KU ID card is all you need to check out materials from the libraries.
- You can check out books for 6 weeks at a time.

No matter what you’re studying, KU Libraries have world-class collections and scholarly resources for your research papers, projects and coursework—and friendly staff with the expertise to help you find exactly what you need. We are your partner at KU, here to help you succeed in the classroom and beyond. You belong here.

Start Strong

- Read the assignment and make sure you understand it. Ask for help if needed.
- Find a topic you like and form a specific research question.
- Determine what kind of research you need (ex. scholarly or popular; books, magazines, or websites; etc.)
- Know how many sources you need.
- Start early - give yourself time to complete your work, revise, and proofread before you turn it in.

Eliminate Distractions

- Cold Turkey for PC and Self Control for Mac let you block websites that distract you while you're studying.
- Seek out quiet study space in any of KU's libraries.
- Plan ahead - set aside time in your schedule for working on projects and stick to it.
- Gather everything you need before you begin - pens, paper, snacks, etc. - so it's all within reach.

Stay Focused

- Try the Pomodoro Technique: work for 25 minutes, take note of what you accomplished, and then take a 5 minute break. Repeat.
- Pomodoro timer apps are available for laptop or phone. The timer helps keep you on task!

Ask for Help When Needed

- The Writing Center can help at any stage of the writing process. Make an appointment at writing.ku.edu
- Use the Ask a Librarian feature on the Libraries website, which puts you in contact with a librarian via chat, email, text, or phone.
- AAAC offers tutoring for a variety of courses. Find out more at tutoring.ku.edu.

This work is licensed under Creative Commons, a global nonprofit organization that enables sharing and reuse of creativity and knowledge through the provision of free legal tools, including copyright licensing.
What kind of RESEARCHER are YOU?

the pragmatist

The most direct route is the route for you.

Make the Most of KU Libraries

Visit Anschutz Library

- Go when it's most convenient for you - Anschutz is open 24 hours a day Sunday-Thursday when classes are in session.
- The Learning Studio on the 3rd and 4th floors offers group study rooms and areas, computers and printers, and a Writing Center location.
- Laptops, iPad Minis, headphones, calculators, and voice recorders available for check out at the service desk.

Online Access From Anywhere

- Access databases and e-Journals with your KU ID from anywhere - including your dorm.
- Search the library catalog and request that materials be sent to any library service desk for easy pick-up.
- Request and receive items not available in the Libraries' collections through Interlibrary Loan (ILL)!

Featured Online Database

Google Scholar still feels like Google, but will help you get your scholarly research done. Find it through the Libraries website for better access to full text.

You Might Like...

KU LIBRARIES
The University of Kansas
Did You Know?

- The Ask a Librarian Feature on the Libraries website connects you to a KU Librarian from anywhere via chat, text, email, or phone.
- There are 7 libraries on the Lawrence campus.
- Your KU ID card is all you need to check out materials from the libraries.
- You can check out books for 6 weeks at a time.

No matter what you're studying, KU Libraries have world-class collections and scholarly resources for your research papers, projects and coursework—and friendly staff with the expertise to help you find exactly what you need. We are your partner at KU, here to help you succeed in the classroom and beyond. You belong here.

Start Strong

- Read the assignment and make sure you understand it. Ask for help if needed.
- Find a topic you like and form a specific research question.
- Determine what kind of research you need (ex. scholarly or popular; books, magazines, or websites; etc.)
- Know how many sources you need.
- Start early - give yourself time to complete your work, revise, and proofread before you turn it in.

Stay Focused

- Try the Pomodoro Technique: work for 25 minutes, take note of what you accomplished, and then take a 5 minute break. Repeat.
- Pomodoro timer apps are available for laptop or phone. The timer helps keep you on task!

Cold Turkey for PC and Self Control for Mac let you block websites that distract you while you're studying.

Eliminate Distractions

- Seek out quiet study space in any of KU's libraries.
- Plan ahead - set aside time in your schedule for working on projects and stick to it.
- Gather everything you need before you begin - pens, paper, snacks, etc.- so it's all within reach.

Ask for Help When Needed

- The Writing Center can help at any stage of the writing process. Make an appointment at writing.ku.edu
- Use the Ask a Librarian feature on the Libraries website, which puts you in contact with a librarian via chat, email, text, or phone.
- AAAC offers tutoring for a variety of courses. Find out more at tutoring.ku.edu.

This work is licensed under Creative Commons, a global nonprofit organization that enables sharing and reuse of creativity and knowledge through the provision of free legal tools, including copyright licensing.

lib.ku.edu
Make the Most of KU Libraries

Visit Spencer Research Library
- Collections include ancient and medieval manuscripts; one of the largest collections of Irish literature outside Dublin; special collections in the history of science and education; the Kansas Collection; the Wilcox Collection of Contemporary Political Movements; and the University Archives.
- Enjoy quiet spaces and a beautiful view of campus!

Online Access From Anywhere
- Access databases and e-Journals with your KU ID from anywhere - including your dorm.
- Search the library catalog and request that materials be sent to any library service desk for easy pick-up.
- Request and receive items not available in the Libraries’ collections through Interlibrary Loan (ILL).

Featured Online Database
America, History and Life indexes and abstracts the world's scholarly literature in the history of the US and Canada from prehistoric times to the present.

You Might Like...
Curiosity’s Cats: Writers on Research (2014) offers powerful arguments for the value of hands-on research, be it chasing documents, cracking mysteries, interviewing subjects, or visiting places. Available as an eBook from the Project MUSE database.
Did You Know?

- The Ask a Librarian Feature on the Libraries website connects you to a KU Librarian from anywhere via chat, text, email, or phone.
- There are 7 libraries on the Lawrence campus.
- Your KU ID card is all you need to check out materials from the libraries.
- You can check out books for 6 weeks at a time.

No matter what you’re studying, KU Libraries have world-class collections and scholarly resources for your research papers, projects and coursework—and friendly staff with the expertise to help you find exactly what you need. We are your partner at KU, here to help you succeed in the classroom and beyond. You belong here.

Start Strong

- Read the assignment and make sure you understand it. Ask for help if needed.
- Find a topic you like and form a specific research question.
- Determine what kind of research you need (ex. scholarly or popular; books, magazines, or websites; etc.)
- Know how many sources you need.
- Start early - give yourself time to complete your work, revise, and proofread before you turn it in.

Eliminate Distractions

- Cold Turkey for PC and Self Control for Mac let you block websites that distract you while you’re studying.
- Seek out quiet study space in any of KU’s libraries.
- Plan ahead - set aside time in your schedule for working on projects and stick to it.
- Gather everything you need before you begin - pens, paper, snacks, etc.- so it’s all within reach.

Stay Focused

- Try the Pomodoro Technique: work for 25 minutes, take note of what you accomplished, and then take a 5 minute break. Repeat.
- Pomodoro timer apps are available for laptop or phone. The timer helps keep you on task!
- Ask for Help When Needed
- The Writing Center can help at any stage of the writing process. Make an appointment at writing.ku.edu
- Use the Ask a Librarian feature on the Libraries website, which puts you in contact with a librarian via chat, email, text, or phone.
- AAAC offers tutoring for a variety of courses. Find out more at tutoring.ku.edu.

This work is licensed under Creative Commons, a global nonprofit organization that enables sharing and reuse of creativity and knowledge through the provision of free legal tools, including copyright licensing.
What kind of RESEARCHER are YOU?

the shallow wader

With the internet at your fingertips, you feel powerful—but the deep web is a little too deep for you. You’re satisfied with just skimming the surface for your information needs.

Make the Most of KU Libraries

Visit Anschutz Library

• Go when it’s most convenient for you - Anschutz is open 24 hours a day Sunday-Thursday when classes are in session. The Learning Studio on the 3rd and 4th floors offers group study rooms and areas, computers and printers, and a Writing Center location. Laptops and iPad Minis available for check out at the service desk.

Online Access from Anywhere

• Access databases and e-Journals with your KU ID from anywhere - including your dorm.
• Search the library catalog and request that materials be sent to any library service desk for easy pick-up.
• Search tools like filters make it easy to narrow down your results.
• Request and receive items not available in the Libraries’ collections through Interlibrary Loan (ILL)!

Featured Online Database

Google Scholar still feels like Google, but will help you get your scholarly research done. Find it through the Libraries website for better access to full text.

You Might Like...

The Craft of Research (2008) includes a discussion of the often difficult early stages of a research task: planning and drafting a paper. There is also a section on evaluating the reliability of sources. Available in Anschutz Library, call no. Q180.55.M4 B66 2008
Did You Know?

- The Ask a Librarian Feature on the Libraries website connects you to a KU Librarian from anywhere via chat, text, email, or phone.
- There are 7 libraries on the Lawrence campus.
- Your KU ID card is all you need to check out materials from the libraries.
- You can check out books for 6 weeks at a time.

No matter what you’re studying, KU Libraries have world-class collections and scholarly resources for your research papers, projects and coursework—and friendly staff with the expertise to help you find exactly what you need. We are your partner at KU, here to help you succeed in the classroom and beyond. You belong here.

Start Strong

- Read the assignment and make sure you understand it. Ask for help if needed.
- Find a topic you like and form a specific research question.
- Determine what kind of research you need (ex. scholarly or popular; books, magazines, or websites; etc.)
- Know how many sources you need.
- Start early - give yourself time to complete your work, revise, and proofread before you turn it in.

Stay Focused

- Try the Pomodoro Technique: work for 25 minutes, take note of what you accomplished, and then take a 5 minute break. Repeat.
- Pomodoro timer apps are available for laptop or phone. The timer helps keep you on task!

Eliminate Distractions

- Cold Turkey for PC and Self Control for Mac let you block websites that distract you while you’re studying.
- Seek out quiet study space in any of KU’s libraries.
- Plan ahead - set aside time in your schedule for working on projects and stick to it.
- Gather everything you need before you begin - pens, paper, snacks, etc.- so it's all within reach.

Ask for Help When Needed

- The Writing Center can help at any stage of the writing process. Make an appointment at writing.ku.edu
- Use the Ask a Librarian feature on the Libraries website, which puts you in contact with a librarian via chat, email, text, or phone.
- AAAC offers tutoring for a variety of courses. Find out more at tutoring.ku.edu.

This work is licensed under Creative Commons, a global nonprofit organization that enables sharing and reuse of creativity and knowledge through the provision of free legal tools, including copyright licensing.
Make the Most of KU Libraries

Group Study Rooms
- Study rooms available to reserve in Anschutz, Watson, Spahr, Music & Dance, and Art & Architecture
- Various rooms can accommodate 3-13+ people
- Reserve a room at calendar.lib.ku.edu
- No reservation? Open group study areas are designated in various libraries.

Online Access From Anywhere
- Access databases and e-Journals with your KU ID from anywhere - including your dorm.
- Search the library catalog and request that materials be sent to any library service desk for easy pick-up.
- Request and receive items not available in the Libraries' collections through Interlibrary Loan (ILL)!

Featured Online Database

Academic Search Complete includes resources from the humanities to STEM and everything in between.

You Might Like...

Did You Know?

- The Ask a Librarian Feature on the Libraries website connects you to a KU Librarian from anywhere via chat, text, email, or phone.
- There are 7 libraries on the Lawrence campus.
- Your KU ID card is all you need to check out materials from the libraries.
- You can check out books for 6 weeks at a time.

No matter what you’re studying, KU Libraries have world-class collections and scholarly resources for your research papers, projects and coursework—and friendly staff with the expertise to help you find exactly what you need. We are your partner at KU, here to help you succeed in the classroom and beyond. You belong here.

Start Strong

- Read the assignment and make sure you understand it. Ask for help if needed.
- Find a topic you like and form a specific research question.
- Determine what kind of research you need (ex. scholarly or popular; books, magazines, or websites; etc.)
- Know how many sources you need.
- Start early - give yourself time to complete your work, revise, and proofread before you turn it in.

Stay Focused

- Try the Pomodoro Technique: work for 25 minutes, take note of what you accomplished, and then take a 5 minute break. Repeat.
- Pomodoro timer apps are available for laptop or phone. The timer helps keep you on task!

Eliminate Distractions

- Cold Turkey for PC and Self Control for Mac let you block websites that distract you while you're studying.
- Seek out quiet study space in any of KU's libraries.
- Plan ahead - set aside time in your schedule for working on projects and stick to it.
- Gather everything you need before you begin - pens, paper, snacks, etc.- so it's all within reach.

Ask for Help When Needed

- The Writing Center can help at any stage of the writing process. Make an appointment at writing.ku.edu
- Use the Ask a Librarian feature on the Libraries website, which puts you in contact with a librarian via chat, email, text, or phone.
- AAAC offers tutoring for a variety of courses. Find out more at tutoring.ku.edu.

This work is licensed under Creative Commons, a global nonprofit organization that enables sharing and reuse of creativity and knowledge through the provision of free legal tools, including copyright licensing.

lib.ku.edu
Make the Most of KU Libraries

Group Study Rooms
- Study rooms available to reserve in Anschutz, Watson, Spahr, Music & Dance, and Art & Architecture.
- Various rooms can accommodate 3-13+ people.
- Reserve a room at calendar.lib.ku.edu.
- No reservation? Open group study areas are designated in various libraries.

Visit Spencer Research Library
- Houses University Archives, where you can learn more about KU’s sports history.
- Other collections include ancient & medieval manuscripts; one of the largest collections of Irish literature outside Dublin; special collections in the history of science & education; the Wilcox Collection of Contemporary Political Movements; and the Kansas Collection.
- Enjoy quiet spaces & a beautiful view of campus!

Featured Online Database
SPORTDiscus contains resources on a range of sports-related topics including books and journal articles.

You Might Like...

Deaner: Fifty Years of University of Kansas Athletics (1997) is the story of Dean Nesmith, who served KU, first as a student athlete and then as a trainer and coach, for nearly half a century. Available in Spencer Research Library, call no. RH C7900
Did You Know?

- The Ask a Librarian Feature on the Libraries website connects you to a KU Librarian from anywhere via chat, text, email, or phone.
- There are 7 libraries on the Lawrence campus.
- Your KU ID card is all you need to check out materials from the libraries.
- You can check out books for 6 weeks at a time.

No matter what you’re studying, KU Libraries have world-class collections and scholarly resources for your research papers, projects and coursework—and friendly staff with the expertise to help you find exactly what you need. We are your partner at KU, here to help you succeed in the classroom and beyond. You belong here.

Start Strong

- Read the assignment and make sure you understand it. Ask for help if needed.
- Find a topic you like and form a specific research question.
- Determine what kind of research you need (ex. scholarly or popular; books, magazines, or websites; etc.)
- Know how many sources you need.
- Start early - give yourself time to complete your work, revise, and proofread before you turn it in.

Eliminate Distractions

- Cold Turkey for PC and Self Control for Mac let you block websites that distract you while you’re studying.
- Seek out quiet study space in any of KU’s libraries.
- Plan ahead - set aside time in your schedule for working on projects and stick to it.
- Gather everything you need before you begin - pens, paper, snacks, etc.- so it’s all within reach.

Stay Focused

- Try the Pomodoro Technique: work for 25 minutes, take note of what you accomplished, and then take a 5 minute break. Repeat.
- Pomodoro timer apps are available for laptop or phone. The timer helps keep you on task!

Ask for Help When Needed

- The Writing Center can help at any stage of the writing process. Make an appointment at writing.ku.edu
- Use the Ask a Librarian feature on the Libraries website, which puts you in contact with a librarian via chat, email, text, or phone.
- AAAC offers tutoring for a variety of courses. Find out more at tutoring.ku.edu.

This work is licensed under Creative Commons, a global nonprofit organization that enables sharing and reuse of creativity and knowledge through the provision of free legal tools, including copyright licensing.
What kind of researcher are you?

The technician

You know your way around the modern world.

Make the Most of KU Libraries

Visit Spahr Engineering Library
- Offers thousands of books, serials, and microfiche items serving the needs of the School of Engineering.
- Houses quiet and group study spaces, computer workstations, and a food stop.
- Private group study rooms are available to reserve - book yours at http://calendar.lib.ku.edu/booking/spahr

Technology Available for Checkout
- iPad Minis available in Watson and Anschutz Libraries – great for watching videos or reading PDFs!
- Forgot to bring headphones? They’re available in Watson, Anschutz, Spahr, Art & Architecture, and Music & Dance Libraries.

Featured Online Database

Web of Science offers an index of data, books, journals, proceedings, and patents, across many disciplines.

You Might Like...

Research in Technical Communication (2002) includes the work of many noted scholars in the field, presenting a wide range of research methods and combining theory and practice.
Available by request from the Libraries Annex, call no. T10.5 .R46 2002
Did You Know?

- The Ask a Librarian Feature on the Libraries website connects you to a KU Librarian from anywhere via chat, text, email, or phone.
- There are 7 libraries on the Lawrence campus.
- Your KU ID card is all you need to check out materials from the libraries.
- You can check out books for 6 weeks at a time.

No matter what you’re studying, KU Libraries have world-class collections and scholarly resources for your research papers, projects and coursework—and friendly staff with the expertise to help you find exactly what you need. We are your partner at KU, here to help you succeed in the classroom and beyond. You belong here.

Start Strong

- Read the assignment and make sure you understand it. Ask for help if needed.
- Find a topic you like and form a specific research question.
- Determine what kind of research you need (ex. scholarly or popular; books, magazines, or websites; etc.)
- Know how many sources you need.
- Start early - give yourself time to complete your work, revise, and proofread before you turn it in.

Eliminate Distractions

- Cold Turkey for PC and Self Control for Mac let you block websites that distract you while you're studying.
- Seek out quiet study space in any of KU's libraries.
- Plan ahead - set aside time in your schedule for working on projects and stick to it.
- Gather everything you need before you begin - pens, paper, snacks, etc. - so it's all within reach.

Stay Focused

- Try the Pomodoro Technique: work for 25 minutes, take note of what you accomplished, and then take a 5 minute break. Repeat.
- Pomodoro timer apps are available for laptop or phone. The timer helps keep you on task!

Ask for Help When Needed

- The Writing Center can help at any stage of the writing process. Make an appointment at writing.ku.edu
- Use the Ask a Librarian feature on the Libraries website, which puts you in contact with a librarian via chat, email, text, or phone.
- AAAC offers tutoring for a variety of courses. Find out more at tutoring.ku.edu.

This work is licensed under Creative Commons, a global nonprofit organization that enables sharing and reuse of creativity and knowledge through the provision of free legal tools, including copyright licensing.
Make the Most of KU Libraries

Visit Watson Library

- KU’s oldest and largest library.
- Houses collections in the social sciences, humanities, education, journalism and social welfare.
- Newly renovated quiet individual and group study space on the 5th floor.
- Features Studio K on the 3rd floor, a quick-record studio where you can easily record a speech, demonstration or presentation.

Visit the Art & Architecture Library

- Located on the first level of Spencer Museum of Art.
- Holds a collection of more than 170,000 volumes documents the visual arts worldwide and from all ages, including visual and textual information.
- Among the special strengths of the collection are American art, East Asian art, architectural design, and the history and techniques of crafts.

Featured Online Database

JSTOR offers a vast store of academic journals, books, and primary sources spanning a wide range of topics.

You Might Like...

Did You Know?

- The Ask a Librarian Feature on the Libraries website connects you to a KU Librarian from anywhere via chat, text, email, or phone.
- There are 7 libraries on the Lawrence campus.
- Your KU ID card is all you need to check out materials from the libraries.
- You can check out books for 6 weeks at a time.

No matter what you’re studying, KU Libraries have world-class collections and scholarly resources for your research papers, projects and coursework—and friendly staff with the expertise to help you find exactly what you need. We are your partner at KU, here to help you succeed in the classroom and beyond. You belong here.

Start Strong

- Read the assignment and make sure you understand it. Ask for help if needed.
- Find a topic you like and form a specific research question.
- Determine what kind of research you need (ex. scholarly or popular; books, magazines, or websites; etc.)
- Know how many sources you need.
- Start early - give yourself time to complete your work, revise, and proofread before you turn it in.

Stay Focused

- Try the Pomodoro Technique: work for 25 minutes, take note of what you accomplished, and then take a 5 minute break. Repeat.
- Pomodoro timer apps are available for laptop or phone. The timer helps keep you on task!

Eliminate Distractions

- Cold Turkey for PC and Self Control for Mac let you block websites that distract you while you're studying.
- Seek out quiet study space in any of KU's libraries.
- Plan ahead - set aside time in your schedule for working on projects and stick to it.
- Gather everything you need before you begin - pens, paper, snacks, etc.- so it's all within reach.

Ask for Help When Needed

- The Writing Center can help at any stage of the writing process. Make an appointment at writing.ku.edu
- Use the Ask a Librarian feature on the Libraries website, which puts you in contact with a librarian via chat, email, text, or phone.
- AAAC offers tutoring for a variety of courses. Find out more at tutoring.ku.edu.

This work is licensed under Creative Commons, a global nonprofit organization that enables sharing and reuse of creativity and knowledge through the provision of free legal tools, including copyright licensing.
What kind of RESEARCHER are YOU?

You form bonds with others through your interest and are eager to tell anyone who will listen that André Bazin owned a cat.

Make the Most of KU Libraries

Visit Watson Library
- KU’s oldest and largest library.
  Houses collections in the social sciences, humanities, education, journalism and social welfare.
  Newly renovated quiet individual and group study space on the 5th floor.
  Features Studio K on the 3rd floor, a quick-record studio where you can easily record a speech, demonstration or presentation.

Technology Available for Checkout
- iPad Minis available in Watson and Anschutz Libraries – great for watching videos and reading PDFs!
- Forgot to bring headphones? They’re available in Watson, Anschutz, Spahr, Art & Architecture, and Music & Dance Libraries.

Featured Online Database
The Film & Television Literature Index offers access to relevant publications, journals, and books. Including Variety movie reviews from 1914 to present.

You Might Like...

An Introduction to Film Studies (3rd ed. 2003) is one of the leading textbooks for students of cinema, covering key issues and concepts in film studies as well as some of the world’s national cinemas. Available in Watson Library, call no. PN1994 .I537 2003
Did You Know?

- The Ask a Librarian Feature on the Libraries website connects you to a KU Librarian from anywhere via chat, text, email, or phone.
- There are 7 libraries on the Lawrence campus.
- Your KU ID card is all you need to check out materials from the libraries.
- You can check out books for 6 weeks at a time.

No matter what you're studying, KU Libraries have world-class collections and scholarly resources for your research papers, projects and coursework—and friendly staff with the expertise to help you find exactly what you need. We are your partner at KU, here to help you succeed in the classroom and beyond. You belong here.

Start Strong

- Read the assignment and make sure you understand it. Ask for help if needed.
- Find a topic you like and form a specific research question.
- Determine what kind of research you need (ex. scholarly or popular; books, magazines, or websites; etc.)
- Know how many sources you need.
- Start early - give yourself time to complete your work, revise, and proofread before you turn it in.

Stay Focused

- Try the Pomodoro Technique: work for 25 minutes, take note of what you accomplished, and then take a 5 minute break. Repeat.
- Pomodoro timer apps are available for laptop or phone. The timer helps keep you on task!

Eliminate Distractions

- Cold Turkey for PC and Self Control for Mac let you block websites that distract you while you're studying.
- Seek out quiet study space in any of KU's libraries.
- Plan ahead - set aside time in your schedule for working on projects and stick to it.
- Gather everything you need before you begin - pens, paper, snacks, etc.- so it's all within reach.

Ask for Help When Needed

- The Writing Center can help at any stage of the writing process. Make an appointment at writing.ku.edu
- Use the Ask a Librarian feature on the Libraries website, which puts you in contact with a librarian via chat, email, text, or phone.
- AAAC offers tutoring for a variety of courses. Find out more at tutoring.ku.edu.

This work is licensed under Creative Commons, a global nonprofit organization that enables sharing and reuse of creativity and knowledge through the provision of free legal tools, including copyright licensing.
What kind of RESEARCHER are YOU?

Research for you is a great adventure, and the stacks are your wilderness.

Make the Most of KU Libraries

Special Collections in Spencer Research Library

- Collections include ancient and medieval manuscripts; one of the largest collections of Irish literature outside Dublin; special collections in the history of science and education; the Kansas Collection; the Wilcox Collection of Contemporary Political Movements; and the University Archives.
- Enjoy quiet spaces and a beautiful view of campus!

Online Access From Anywhere

- Access databases and e-Journals with your KU ID from anywhere you want to explore.
- Search the library catalog and request that materials be sent to any library service desk for easy pick-up.
- Request and receive items not available in the Libraries’ collections through Interlibrary Loan (ILL)!

Featured Online Database

GeoScienceWorld provides comprehensive resources for research and communications in earth sciences.

You Might Like...

Did You Know?

- The Ask a Librarian Feature on the Libraries website connects you to a KU Librarian from anywhere via chat, text, email, or phone.
- There are 7 libraries on the Lawrence campus.
- Your KU ID card is all you need to check out materials from the libraries.
- You can check out books for 6 weeks at a time.

No matter what you're studying, KU Libraries have world-class collections and scholarly resources for your research papers, projects and coursework—and friendly staff with the expertise to help you find exactly what you need. We are your partner at KU, here to help you succeed in the classroom and beyond. You belong here.

Start Strong

- Read the assignment and make sure you understand it. Ask for help if needed.
- Find a topic you like and form a specific research question.
- Determine what kind of research you need (ex. scholarly or popular; books, magazines, or websites; etc.)
- Know how many sources you need.
- Start early - give yourself time to complete your work, revise, and proofread before you turn it in.

Stay Focused

- Try the Pomodoro Technique: work for 25 minutes, take note of what you accomplished, and then take a 5 minute break. Repeat.
- Pomodoro timer apps are available for laptop or phone. The timer helps keep you on task!

Eliminate Distractions

- Cold Turkey for PC and Self Control for Mac let you block websites that distract you while you're studying.
- Seek out quiet study space in any of KU's libraries.
- Plan ahead - set aside time in your schedule for working on projects and stick to it.
- Gather everything you need before you begin - pens, paper, snacks, etc.- so it's all within reach.

Ask for Help When Needed

- The Writing Center can help at any stage of the writing process. Make an appointment at writing.ku.edu
- Use the Ask a Librarian feature on the Libraries website, which puts you in contact with a librarian via chat, email, text, or phone.
- AAAC offers tutoring for a variety of courses. Find out more at tutoring.ku.edu.

This work is licensed under Creative Commons, a global nonprofit organization that enables sharing and reuse of creativity and knowledge through the provision of free legal tools, including copyright licensing.