8:30 - 9:00: Outline for the rest of the day (Emmett, Kieft)

9:00 -10:00: Small-group work

Teams will develop a publishing regime that will:

- present a solution that is free for readers and for authors;
- work in the local context and create partnerships that incorporate a variety of global situations, including those individuals and groups marginalized by historical, political, and economic power structures;
- address barriers to or opportunities for authors (i.e., the focus should be on the creators of the work, rather than on the producers or user);
- present an agenda for action;
- envision a 5- to 10-year transition that includes universities as the major stakeholder in a knowledge production and sharing environment that will benefit all readers and authors.

10:00 - 11:15: Discussion of results of group work (Teams, Planning Group)

11:15 - 12:00 PM: Agenda setting: next steps, funding horizon, future discussions/meetings (Panel)

12:00 PM: Adjournment
