Cover Art:

On the cover is a photograph of the “Wak’ó Mujeres Phụ nữ Womxn Mural.” The mural’s title represents names for “women” in the indigenous Kanza, Spanish, and Vietnamese languages. This “Womxn of Color” mural was designed by over a dozen artists, including the photographer Leah Evans, and is currently on display at the Lawrence Public Library. Visuals depict the diverse stories of womxn of color, who disproportionately experience intersectional vulnerabilities in times of crises. This mural was chosen to illustrate the realities of womxn’s lived experiences, as well as the empirical research, book reviews, and interviews found within Volume 36 of STAR: “Crises and (Mis)Management.”

You can find out more information about the mural and the muralists on their Facebook page: <https://www.facebook.com/wocmural.ks/>

Acknowledgments

STAR acknowledges that the University of Kansas resides on the ancestral territory of several tribal nations including Kaw, Osage, and Shawnee peoples. This land acknowledgement recognizes that Native and Indigenous populations are traditional guardians of the land and we recognize the enduring relationship amongst Native populations and these territories.

The editors of Social Thought and Research would like to thank all subscribers for their continued patience and understanding. We also wish to thank Brock Ternes (typesetting) for assisting in preparing this volume for publication and printing. Thank you to all anonymous reviewers for their dedicated time and attention to the work presented in this volume. Thank you again for your continued support of STAR, and to all the authors who submitted their work for Volume 36. We appreciate all authors' and contributors' patience and efforts into finishing the publication of Volume 36.
