² Census 2000 terminology is used for ethnic categories. The corresponding term for "Hispanic or Latino" in the 1990 census was "Hispanic Origin."

* - Formerly known as the Scholastic Aptitude Test.

 Possible scores on each part of the SAT range from 200 to 800. Rankings of states based on SAT scores alone are invalid because of the varying proportions of students in each state taking the tests.

Nominal sales are calculated by dividing the sales tax collection amount from each county by the state sales-tax rate. From nominal sales, real sales are found using the averaged CPI-U for the Midwest region, as reported by the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics.

*The 2000 per capita income estimates in this release are based on the April 1, 2000 decennial census population counts as released by the Census Bureau December 28, 2000. Per capita personal income for 1991-99 are not shown because the Census Bureau has not yet published state population estimates for the intercensal years that are consistent with the decennial census counts. In September, when BEA regularly revises state personal income for 1998-2000, BEA will also release estimates of state per capita personal income for 1991-99.

*Average Per Farm is obtained by dividing Total Value of All Farmland by the number of farms.

Note: Beginning in 1975, a farm is defined as any place with annual sales of agricultural products of $1,000 or more. Between 1959 and 1975 a farm was defined as a place of 10 or more acres that had annual sales of agricultural products of $50 or more or a place of less than 10 acres that had annual sales of $250 or more. Prior to 1959 a farm was defined as a place three acres or more in size with a value of farm products amounting to $150 or more. Places of less than three acres with sales of $250 or more were also considered farms.
