

Patrick W. Fitzgerald - Professor of Finance and Economics University of Oklahoma City

Contact Phone: 405.521.5168

Email: pfitzgerald@okcu.edu

Education:

Ph.D., University of Texas, Austin

Ed.D., Oklahoma State University

J.D., University of Oklahoma

Th.M., Harvard University

M.Div., Austin Presbyterian Theological Seminary

M.B.A., Southern Methodist University

B.B.A., University of Texas, Arlington

Dr Fitzgerald has been a visiting scholar or post doctoral fellow at the following institutions:

Yale Law School, Yale Divinity school, University of Chicago, Duke University, and the University of California at Berkeley.

He has also completed substantial graduate work in ethics at the Princeton Theological Seminary.

Areas of Expertise:

Dr. Fitzgerald teaches finance, economics, law and ethics. Research includes issues regarding financial ethics and the relationship between the law, economics and ethics. His research also focuses on securities law and regulations, economics and public policy.

Professional Activities:

Professor Fitzgerald has written and edited numerous books and articles. He appears frequently as an expert witness in courts and before administrative agencies throughout the United States. He consults with large and small businesses on a variety of issues including business planning, business valuations, law and ethics. Fitzgerald is a member of many professional associations including the Oklahoma and Texas Bar Associations. He is a referee for the journal "Accounting, Public Policy and Ethics."